Had intened to do such a work before leaving England but "the state of my family such that I could not leave them any longer." Was willing to give up her English copyrights [by not being in England at the time of publication]; her publishers suggested joint authorship. ". . . it then ocured to me that you had been to Italy-had had like me a lovely time there- must have thought probably written a great deal about it & had never published." Suggests they write, secure mutual copyright and divide the profits. "I have always sympathized so heartily with your views & opinions on all subjects as to feel that there would be enough accord in the work. In cases where we have have taken views slightly different let both be presented. . . ." Since copyright must appear first in England the eitiing would devolve on Mrs. Gaskell. "I shall send you all I have to say- & you will then take it & arrange it with yours."

Howard, John Raymond, "dear Jack"		1870 January 31	Hartford, CT	ALS, 4 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Asks that he send her a copy of the magazine right away. Says that she has put her bank stocks up for sale and hopes to have them sold by the time she gets to New York. Discusses payment for her article, saying to "pay what you can" for she has been spending months on "the [Lord] Byron question." Says she is still recovering from a blow to her head that occurred in Stockbridge.
Howard, John Raymond, "My dear Jack"		1870 February 17	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 4 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Asks for her subscription of the [Plymouth Pulpit] be sent to her address in Mandarin. Last year she sent some to George Elliot. Mr. Lewes has lost a son and therefore she thinks the latest issue on "the comforting god" did them good. She discusses her opinion on what direction the paper should take. Says when Catharine's piece on suffrage is done she would like to comment on it.
Howard, John Raymond, "My dear Jack"		1870 March 28	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 5.5 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Says that when she first started writing it was to supplement her family's income, and that she wrote some "loose sketches" for the National Era that turned into Uncle Tom's Cabin . Writes that peoples' high expectations keep her from writing. Says that she didn't make any money from "The Pearl of Orr's Island" published in the Independent because it was published during wartime.
Howard, John Raymond, "My dear Jack"		1870 April 1	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 23 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Express her desire to have her own paper to write for rather than being "used" by various ones. The New York Evangelist used some of her articles then suddenly refused to publish anything else by her. Next she wrote for the Watchman and Reflector and there was trouble receiving proper payment from them. The Independent also refused to pay her properly. Articles she wrote for Hearth and Home have been published in Canada, England, and South America and she has received letter about the [?] far away as France and Holland. She is sending him letters about "the Byron Book" that he should show to his mother and to Catharine. Mrs. Chapman and professor Phelps have sent her letters which she will send to him for him to keep for her. Wishes there was a better religious paper she could write for, unlike the Watchman and Reflector which is strictly Baptist or The Congregationalist , which is old fashioned. Mr. Stowe is working on a new series, "On the Book of Daniel." She says she must support her family and can sell her Hartford property and her cotton socks if needed.
Howard, John Raymond, "My dear Jack"		1870 April 14	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 14 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Talks about an article her sister Catharine sent her about religion. Discusses religion, in depth, about it in the media of the time, and about the financial details of her writing. If he buys her article it will be for less than the Independent paid for The Pearl of Orr's Island . Ticknor and Fields has made an offer for the story, which will be a temperance one. Says she will visit his office in New York with Mr. Stowe sometime soon.
[Howard, John Raymond] "my dear Jack"		1870 May 5	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 18 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Mentions her and Mr. Stowe's financial situation. Criticizes the Independent and The New York Observer , saying that successful papers are only concerned with "the flesh and the devil." Discusses religion, specifically in New England and New York in great detail and about the path the Christian Union should take to be a true religious paper.

Perkins, Mary (Beecher), Mrs. Thomas Clap (1805-1900)		[1870] October 11	Stockbridge, MA	ALS, 12 pp.	Helen D. Perkins Collection	She would fly at once to Mary if it were not for her daughter, Georgiana's excitable state. Latter alarmed by reports of complications after childbirth. Depressed by news of [Mr. Perkins'] physical condition; Georgie feels she should go to Hartford, but Harriet must keep from sinking into melancholy. Feels Georgie's nurse a bad influence, she is so gloomy and pessimistic. Expresses her love for Mr. Perkins and Mary; wishes she could be in Hartford to comfort them.
Perkins, Mary (Beecher), Mrs. Thomas Clap (1805-1900)		[1870] October 13	Stockbridge, MA	ALS, 12 pp.	Helen D. Perkins Collection	Expresses deep sympathy at death of Thomas Perkins "one of my truest friends and most disinterested friends." Georgiana's state of mental anxiety and melancholy demands that Harriet stay there to keep her from "sinking." Georgiana's nurse, Mrs. Hatch, makes Georgiana despondent by her remarks. Hopes to see Mary in a week. She is glad Mr. Perkins was spared long suffering. Feels that this life not meant for home or rest, but "the other land".
Perkins, Mary (Beecher), Mrs. Thomas Clap (1805-1900)		[1870] October 15	Stockbridge, MA	ALI, 16 pp.	Helen D. Perkins Collection	Her heart with Mary in latter's grief. Struck by "resemblance between birth and death." Recalls painting of Fra Angelico of death of the Virgin, and other paintings representing the soul departing from the body as a new born babe. Depended so on Mr. Perkins for advice; he took her father's place for guidance. "We seem so unwilling to give up this world." Expresses her pain when a dear friend departs. Did not feel thus when her father died "because he had ceased to be."
[Howard, John Raymond], 1837-1926, "my dear Jack"		1870 October 15	Stockbridge, MA	ALS, 4 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Her true friend, Mr. Perkins has died. Encloses letter from Hatty describing the last part of his life. Send it to Fred in Mandarin afterwards. Catharine told her he owes her $500.00 for their book [The American Woman's Home], and she [HBS] should get $300.00. Will send what she has of the Christian Union story [My Wife & I].
Perkins, Mary (Beecher), Mrs. Thomas Clap (1805-1900)		[1870 October 19 or 26]	[Stockbridge, MA]	ALS, 16 pp.	Helen D. Perkins Collection	Just received Mary's present. Her daughter Georgie [Mrs. Henry Freeman Allen] touched by the thoughtfulness of her [late] uncle [Thomas Perkins]. Letters from Lucy [Mrs. Charles E. Perkins] and Emily [(Perkins), Mrs. Edward Evertt Hale] helped Georgie. She is improving; her condition "a state of nervous apprehension," not physical complications due to birth of son. Harriet blames Georgie's nurse who is an alarmist. Feels the doctor shows good common sense in treating her. She is cheered by Mary's belief "that death does not divide us from our friends. . . ." Her article "A Look Within the Veil" written to show "tangible ground . . . of comfort to believers looking foward to that state." Refers to funeral of Thomas Perkins. Hopes Mary will remain in Hartford until she comes.
[Howard, John Raymond] "my dear Jack"		1870 October 28	Stockbridge, MA	ALS, 1.5 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Writes that she has sent him two "batches" of proofs. Asks for details on how and where within the paper her story will be published and asks him to write back as soon as possible. Thanks him for his last letter and says she will write again soon.

[Howard, John Raymond], 1837-1926, "dear Jack"		1872 after February 18	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 8 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	She has written to Mrs. Whitney asking her to write a few stories for them. Asks if he has received anything from Miss Alcott yet. Says Gail Hamilton refused her and Mr. Stowe's request to write about Washington society, but she would consider writing about politics or religion if she was allowed to do so "strictly incognito." Tells him to take her up on her offer for "no one hits nails on the head squarer." Says the Christian Union is just as good as the Independent , though the latter has a more impressive author's list. She hopes to get a letter from George Eliot that can be published. Wants extra copies of the Christian Union to send to George Eliot and Florence Nightingale. Asks him to mail her a copy of a book on Florida so she can use the information in Palmetto Leaves .

Robinson, [Anne (Seymour), Mrs. David Franklin, 1801-1892]		1875 May 2	Mandarin, FL	ALI, 8 pp.	Acquisitions	Thanks Mrs. Robinson for her note of encouragement [during Beecher-Tilton trial.] "Henry's long cross examination is over and what evil have they found in him?" "What can any body alledge but over trust in a false friend and a generous chivalrous unselfish effort to shield what the true gentleman always thinks sacred, the weakness of a woman." Has concluded that the trial is an oppurtunity "to glory in infirmity." Explains the influences brought upon Isabella which cause her to judge Henry guilty. "Those wretched people have hown her that the marriage laws ought to be given up - since so great a man could not get along under them without falling," "that the only sin he had committed was living in a false marriage." "If only [Isabella] had a sensible husband. . .but John ministers to the very poorest & weakest part of her nature." Praises the "old gospel" course of Moody & Sankey. Itinerary.
Foote, Christopher Spencer (1837-1880)		1875 May 26	Mandarin, FL	ALI, 4 pp.	Foote Collection	Asks him to deal with Mr. Brigham. Re a plough lumber and orange trees. She will be in New York with Georgie for June.

Anonymous ["Dear Major"-probably an editor associated with James R. Osgood]		1875 October 21	[Hartford, CT?]	ALI, 4 pp.	Katharine S. Day	"You business fellows never understand that conditions of us of the pen and inkstand." Promised to write two stories [Deacon Pitkin's Farm and Christ's Christmas Gift?] "knowing no more than the dead what to write . . ." "The process is to retire to the secret caverns & dip one's pen quietly and let the ink in one's inkstand settle clear & look into a drop of ink till you begin to see images & visions. . . ." More explanation of how she gets inspiration. Dismayed at recontract in England. ". . .there is somethin of ridicule on transporting so very small & modest a fish in the great English fish market. England! where there is a thousand times better material for Christmas stories." Feels it best to confine stories to Christian Union . Will send direction about illustrations; desires back corrected proofs. Re Mr. Gilman [illustrator].	[This letter was published and copyrighted in the 1960 Stowe-Day Foundation Bulletin , vol. Strong, Maria Elizabeth (Collins), Mrs. Caleb (1822-1905)		1875 November 1	Hartford, CT	ALI, 4 pp. + envelop	Acquisitions	Anxious about Mrs. Strong be warm [while renting the Stowe house]. The furnace is the same as that in Mr. [Ezra] Hall's home [next house to the south] and he can advise her if anything goes wrong with it. She leaves it up to Mrs. Strong to have weather stripping added, and deduct cost from the rent. "So about putting the grate in the back parlor - we have had the grate brought down & put in order - but perhaps as the Davenports did not find it necessary you may not. I would rather not ave the carpet cut unless it were necessary." Enclosing "memoranda" [i.e., lease] drawn up by Mr. Hall. Have had a plumber "attend to all the faucets & the water works." The Davenports got through the winter without any frozen pipes "which is a good showing for the Apostolic church for it requires one to 'watch' if not to pray." Has had a "brand new set of gas tips and the brillancy of our gas is someting remarked on so I shall fancy you in a blaze of splendour." Wants to put her three paintings, on loan for Hartford Centennial Exhibition [at Wadsworth Atheneum?] under her special guardianship since she is on the committee; the paintings are The Magnolia, Yellow Jasmine, and "The Good Shepherd" which I bought on te artist's easel at Dueseldorf years ago & prize like gold."	[Maria Strong and Mary Collins, her sister, for several winters rented Stowe house on Forest Street in Hartford.]

Collins, Mary Frances (1829-1911)		1876 April 24	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 4 pp.	Acquisitions	Expects to be in New York about May 20 and "somewhere along the eighth or ninth [of June] I may possibly look in upon you en route for Amherst just to give the general order for getting the garden planted etc." Directions for plating sweet peas in a hedge "the other side of the walnut tree & goin down to te fence. . . I have ordered all the named varieties in papers and two giles of the mixed sent". Obligated to come north by June 1 since her son Charles just engaged and she wishes to entertain him and his fiancee. She and Prof. Stowe are leaving Mandarin a month before the rest of the family to visit her daughter Georgiana (Stowe) Allen; will not return to Hartford until the twins get established there. She would like the hospitality of one night with Miss Collins. Will stop with her on her way to Amherst.
Strong, Maria Elizabeth (Collins), Mrs. Caleb (1822-1905)		[1876? May 9]	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 5.5 pp. + envelope	Acquisitions	Expresses no worry about house in Hartford being empty before Stowe family returns from Florida. Discusses the antics of Stowe cats.
Strong, Maria Elizabeth (Collins), Mrs. Caleb (1822-1905)		1876 June 16	Hartford, CT	ALS, 3.25 pp. + envelope	Acquisitions	"I hope you are having good times at the Centennial [in Philadelphia]. The [Stowe twins] appreciate everything so comfortably provided for as they found in their return [Mrs. Stowe had rented her Forest St. house to Miss Mary Collins and her sister, Mrs. Strong, for the winter.] Her pictures "now shine on us thru quinsy veils which do not conceal their beauty but we trust preserve it." Her plans for the fall, to rent her house from Nov. 1st til June 1st "if you feel disposed to take it and I will have the northern windows doubled [i.e. storm windows added]" Mrs. Strong and Miss Collins will be good judges of the Centennial Exposition. Urges them not to do too much in the heat.	[Letter-head, in orange, depicts the devil in an oval with the legend: "Who the -- is this from"].
Cullis, Lucretia Ann (Cullis?), Mrs. Charles		1876 July 8	Hartford, CT	ALS, 3pp.	Katharine S. Day	States inability to attend convention because heat has "prostrating effect." Morgan, Miss E. T.		1884 February 13	Mandarin, FL	ALS, 2 pp. + enclosure	Acquisitions	"Enclosed note from my Boston Publishers [Houghton, Miffling & Co.] I trust the books are already shipped as you desire-I am only too happy to do this little-for every day the increasing problems of my health warns me that my time is almost out. I am not able to do much writing or active work of any kind, etc.	[Written on verso of letter from Houghton Mifflin and Co. to HBS. Dated February 8, 1884.]
[Hooker, Isabella (Beecher), Mrs. John (1822-1907)]		1884 February 26	[Mandarin, FL]	ALS, 1 p.	Joseph K. Hooker Collection	Reports of family health.	[Origin of collection indicates recipient.]
Allen, Reverend Henry Freeman, 1838-1914		1884 June 12	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1pp.	Acquisitions	Stowe writes to her son-in-law to thank him for his recent letter. She is happy to hear that Georgie is recovering from her recent illness. Stowe has sent Freeman a copy of the seal of the Prime Minister of England to add to his collection. She wonders if Freeman received the alligator's egg sent to him by Aunt Hattie. Mentions that she and Mr. Stowe have both been in poor health lately.
[Howard, John Raymond], 1837-1926, "Dear Jack"		1884 August 11	n.p.	ALS, 1 p.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Since she had nothing published through him in two years she assumes there have been no sales. Her sales with Houghton and Mifflin have gone up and she has asked them to meet with him to discuss the works he has. She has enclosed the letter from Houghton Mifflin and hopes he will write her soon.
[Howard, John Raymond], 1837-1926, "Dear Jack"		1884 November 6	49 Forest St., Hartford, CT	ALS, 1.5 pp.	John Raymond Howard Collection	Gives her regards to his mother and apologizes for not writing her more. They are going south the first of December and therefore it would be a great help if he sent a check for all that his firm owes her.
Allen, Georgiana May (Stowe), Mrs. Henry Freeman, 1843-1890 and Allen, Reverend Henry Freeman, 1838-1914		1884 December 17	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1 pp.	Acquisitions	The Stoves will not travel to their Mandarin, FL home for the coming winter. Mr. Stowe is too ill to travel. Stowe and her elder daughters have been readying the Hartford house for winter. Charles visits often to help.
Hooker, Isabella (Beecher), Mrs. John (1822-1907)		1885 January 22	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1.25 pp.	Joseph K. Hooker Collection	"I think more of my brothers and sisters than I ever have before-I have written to all of them and have heard from all but Henry. Mr. Stowe sinks gradually from week to week, but Edward thinks he may last months-his mind is older and he is in no pain-we have the best of nurses and in short we have all under the circumstances we could ask for."
Hooker, Isabella (Beecher), Mrs. John (1822-1907)		1885 January 31	Hartford, CT	ALS, 2 pp.	Joseph K. Hooker Collection	Isabella's request to rent her Mandarin, FL home is the fourth she has had. She cannot because the house is "greatly out of repair" and many of their possessions are still there. Recommends boarding with C.G. Crane or Joel Meade. Mr. Stowe sinking in health "under Brights disease."

Beecher, James C. (1828-1886)		1885 March 31	Hartford, CT	AL, 4 pp.	Katharine S. Day	Was reading her father's memoirs and came upon a letter "written" to me when I was a little girl under Aunt Harriet's [Foote] care at Nutplains, announcing the birth of a little sister Isabella. . . . The latter visited her today. Hopes he is getting better through hydropathic treatment [at Elmira]. Nothing in the healing art in which she has greater confidence. The months she spent at [Water Cure] in Brattleboro changed her from invalid to one "in robust health." Sending him instead of an Easter card a book of prayers, which may help him "feel the blessedness of leaning on the One Almighty Friend. . . ." James' parents "were certainly as wholly devoted to God as our frail mortality attains. . . ." Hopes he may visit her; "At present our house is rather a hospital and my dear husband is slowly painlessly passing away to a better life." Only expert medical skill of Dr. Edward Hooker has kept Professor Stowe "thus long."	[Signature removed from letter.]

Porter, Mr.		1885 April 6	[Hartford, CT]	ALS, 2 pp.	Acquisitions	Pleased to hear from him which has brought "a memory of some pleasant Andover days and the friendly circle that used to brighten the Stone Cabin." Does not presently do much writing and refers Porter to volume two of her father's autobiography. Extends an invitation to Hartford. Re Calvin Stowe's inability to travel to Mandarin this winter.
Jenkins, Elizabeth (Foote), Mrs. Edward H., 1852-1936		[1885] June 30		ALS, 1.5 pp.	Foote Collection	Sending congratulations and a wedding gift.
Campbell, George John Douglas, Duke of Argyll (1823-1900)		1885 July 7	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1.5 pp. + envelope	Katharine S. Day	Introducing her [grand]niece, Miss Mary Perkins [Mrs. Sidney D. Hooker], who intends to tour Scotland and England. He is almost the only one of her old friends in England still living; remembers his kind hospitality.
Allen, Georgiana May (Stowe), Mrs. Henry Freeman 1843-1890		1885 July 14	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1 pp.	Acquisitions	Writes to Georgie with news of her ailing father. The illness is unpredictable and she hopes Georgie and Henry will come to visit before Calvin dies. Stowe is happy to have Charley (Stowe) nearby, who visits often with his young children and helps take care of the house.
Anonymous ["Dear Sir"]		1885 October 2	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1 p.	Katharine S. Day	In reply to his inquiry, she lists books on history and Church history which she recommends.
Estes & Lauriat [publishers]		1885 October 3	Hartford, CT	ALS, 2 pp.	Katharine S. Day	With help of her son, Charles Stowe, she hopes to reedit work [Men of Our Times ?]. Proposes to change the title, since term "self-made men" does not apply to most. Suggests it be "Lives and deeds of celebrated American Men." Approves the omission of Colfax, "Grat" [Grant?] and Brown and substituting Philip Brooks and Peter Cooper. Her son will have interview with them in Boston. As for "compensation" she previously received 10% of the retail price.
Wolfe, Theodore (1847-1915)		[1885] October 7	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1.5 pp. + envelope	Katharine S. Day	A reply to his letter, what she wrote on Byron question is authentic and she has never regretted writing it. Praises Lady Byron. At present she is "Attending on my husband in what seems to prove his last illness."	[Letter clearly dated 1889 by HBS; however, envelope dated 1885. Reference to Calvin Stowe's illness makes 1889 impossible: Calvin Stowe died in 1886.]
Estes & Lauriat [publishers]		1885 October 8	Hartford, CT	ALS, 1 p.	Katharine S. Day	Discusses financial terms for re-editing The Lives and Deeds of Our Self-Made Men .
